

Memory Serves Like Lightning

Geowulf

I remember
When you weren't there
I was looking for some magic
Didn't think that you could take it

I knew better but I didn't let you go
There was something that I wanted to hang onto
Memory serves like lightning when you come back to haunt me
Memory serves like lightning when you can't change things now
You can't change things now

You're a stranger
Only half here
I will not feel guilty cause I want more
Knowing every time you do the same thing

I knew better but I didn't let you go
There was something that I wanted to hang onto
Memory serves like lightning when you come back to haunt me
Memory serves like lightning when you can't change things now
Can't change things now

It's not getting any better baby
It's not getting any better
I thought you wanted to get better baby
You're not getting any better

Cause I knew better but I didn't let you go
There was something that I wanted to hang onto
Memory serves like lightning when you come back to haunt me
Memory serves like lightning when you can't change things

I knew better but I didn't let you go
There was something that I wanted to hang onto
Memory serves like lightning when you come back to haunt me
Memory serves like lightning when you can't change things now
