

Everyday

Gerald Levert

There are times
We might not see eye to eye
And there are times when we'll have differences

We cant be around too long before we fight
But it's okay
Cuz i love you anyway

There are times
When You you don't know
How your gon make it through (gon make it through)
I know I've been there too

You can alwasy rest ashore
Dont be ashamed to share with me
See i am your family
Yeeeah

Everyday(everday) should be(should be) a family reunion
We should speak
From the heart
And let love be the solution
Let us forgive (forgive)
Put the past out of the way(put the past out of the way)
No time to wait (no time to wait)
The time has come to give love everyday

There are times those times when you need to be heard and there are days some days when the pain is beyond words

You hold it in
You run You hide
Cling on to pride when deep down you wanna cry

There are times
bad times
When a secret needs revealing and there are those
Those who know exactly what you're feeling

Come on home
Theres always room
Someone to share everthing that your going through oh oh

Everyday(everday) should be(should be) a family reunion
We should speak (in the morning in the evening)
From the heart
And let love be the solution
Let us forgive (forgive)
Put the past out of the way(put the past out of the way)
No time to wait (no time to wait)
The time has come to give love everyday
