

I'm Not to Blame

Gerald Levert

No I'm not the blame I'ts not my fault you change girl I'm still the same man who gave you everything you wanted

I remember days gone by I would be there when you cried your shoulder
I was there when you needed me you know you could depend on me so what happened well Now I'm standing in disbelief that you could 'cause me such grief you change girl yeah now you have the tendendcy to place all this guilt on me it ain't fair girl and I gotta let you know

When I was out just being a man girl you didn't understand you accused me yeah you did of going out to do you wrong everyday the same old song you confused me So now I'm standing in disbelief that you could cause me so much grief you changed girl yeah and now you have the tendency to place all this guilt on me it ain't fair girl and I gotta let you know

Tell me what can I do to make you happy now that I tried and I can't get by no no no

I know you heard me on the radio I know you see me on the video but that ain't gonna change me no no no

You changed check yourself baby
