

Goodbye Soul

Get Scared

I waited all damn night
My head was spinning, I was terrified
A devastation, fucking paradigm
How could this happen again?
Another day, another put to rest
Say your last goodbyes because we can't operate
You left us all behind, since then, I'm just not the same
No one can stop the rain
So there you lie, such a familiar set of dead eyes
Cold and comatose, hey, welcome to my grim life
Oppressive and cynical, I'll never be the same again
Feels almost criminal, I can't remember anything
Say your last goodbyes because we can't operate
You left us all behind, since then, I'm just not the same
No one can stop the rain
Put up one hell of a fight, then washed away with the tide
Since then, I can't feel a thing
No one can stop the rain
Dear lonely soul, remember me?
Till then, you oughta know I can't believe in anything
Fucking my head up with memories
I felt you take your last breath
Prayed they would take me instead
But what's dead is dead, forget it
Say your last goodbyes because we can't operate
You left us all behind, since then, I'm just not the same
No one can stop the rain
Because we can't operate, no one can stop the rain
You left us all behind, since then, I'm just not the same
