Cold Hearted

Get The Shot

Born enchained, wrecked and wrapped in filth
Cursed to wait until your dying day
Forced to run through life's darkest aisles
To see never see the colour of your father's eyes

Tell me what's much worse now
Than living dead craving to walk away
Nothing's changing it's all in vain
Another morning sun
Another day, same shit

Cold blooded heart
When you're born in a cage
You grow a cold fucking heart

Cold heart
Crucified from the cradle and damned to wail
Cold heart
Left alone in a game with no chance to win
Nevermind, we're all dead weights

Living a life soaked in grime and dirt
You walk this dead end path and wonder what it's worth
I'm trying to face up fate
Another morning sun
Another day, same shit

Cold blooded heart
When you're born in a cage
You grow a cold fucking heart

20 years on death row to feel the pain
Blood has spilled and misfortune remains the same
Turned my back on a world that I hardly love
At the end of a rope I hung my fucking hope

Cold heart
Cold fucking heart

It's all a waste, running out of grace, I'll fall apart
Sink in the shadows of vengeance 'til my heart stops
For what I've done to myself I will never regret
The more I try to forget the more I spit my rage

Cold heart
Cold fucking heart
