

Never Change

Getter

I wouldn't have to write these songs about you
If I had someone else to talk to
So get these thoughts out of my mind
I'm doing fine, at least I like to think that way
But every night I lie awake in bed
Just trying to forget you face

I can't learn from my mistakes
But I've never had the strength to close the space
Between who I am and who I wanna be
I can't run from my mistakes
But I've never had the strength to close the space
Between who I am and who I wanna be

Who I wanna be
I can't run from my mistakes
But I've never had the strength to close the space
Between who I am and who I wanna be

Who I wanna be
Who I wanna be
Who I wanna be

I can't run from my mistakes
But I've never had the strength to close the space
Between who I am and who I wanna be
I can't run from my mistakes
But I've never had the strength to close the space
Between who I am and who I wanna be

It feels like spring never ended
But autumn's in the air
I'm another year older
With nothing to show for it
Now I'm standing in the rain
Trying to hold back all the words
I never got the chance to say
Promise me that you'll always be the same
That things will never change

I can't run from my mistakes
But I've never had the strength to close the space
Between who I am and who I wanna be

Who I wanna be
Who I wanna be
Who I wanna be
