It's fallin' light
It's shinin' light

It's fallin' light
It's shinin' light

Is it perhaps coincidence, or was it in a dream
When our feelings were communicated to each other
What happened that day
Will remain sealed within my heart

As the days pass by gradually
Those memories will shine ever brighter
For some reason it shows on my face
The gentle color of my tears

I can't erase
These vivid memories
It might be small, but I'm certain
That I felt happiness in that moment

If it were possible
Let time stop here
That light appearing like an angel's ladder
Only our love remains
In the light that guides us
It steals my heart every time

It's fallin' light
It's shinin' light

It's just for a moment but look
Our shadows overlapped
Our fluttering hearts illuminated
By the light of the moon

We parted after a chance encounter
But even if I were to pray to God
I can't see you even if I wanted to
Will you hear the wishes of a lost child?

Whenever that voice is cut off
I search again for you
And I am dyed red every time

It's fallin' light
Bust like your warmth
It's shinin' light
Take me with you into your dreams

Will I be able to see you
As I've hoped someday?
Just like those days
Before I lost sight of the light
Just, won't you hold me tightly?

If it were possible
Let time stop here
That light appearing like an angel's ladder

In the light that guides us

It's fallin' light
It's shinin' light
