

Brave Face

Ghost Machinery

Another night has passed
A new day is dawning
Another fight begins and I face it alone

Tears of joy will turn to silent cries for help
Anger grows inside. It'll burst into flames

Oh no, I can't take this anymore
And I know, my heart will turn to stone

There is a void inside
This heart of mine
You only see my everyday brave face
Still fire burns, it yearns
So much more
You only see my everyday brave face

Another day has passed
Soothing night is rising
Candles flickering and I'm drifting away

I leave the light behind me
Embrace the twilight
Remove my mask and just be who I am

Oh no, I can't take this anymore
And I know, my heart will turn to stone

There is a void inside
This heart of mine
You only see my everyday brave face
Still fire burns, it yearns
So much more
You only see my everyday brave face

Back to the wall
Pushing back the pain
I'm not gonna fall
I refuse to crawl
