

I got bodies in my closet, skeletons been stacking up
Ain't no money in my wallet but my Paypal traffic up
I've been selling by the band, band tees on my back
Back streets with my boys, boys creeping, fuck the noise
We don't care 'bout what you heard, play with fire you gon' burn
Bitch I'm swervin 'round the curve with murder sermons on my nerves
We don't care 'bout what you think, acting tough just shows you weak
I know you been losing sleep, I know it's all because of me

I know it's all because of me, ah
I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me

I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me

Seems like all of you been down on your luck
'Cause all of you motherfuckers talking the talk
And that talk is so cheap I can see through the words
That you speak when the seams started unraveling
When your dreams turn to dust and the people you trust
Couldn't trust in the words that you scream
When you're screaming, the meaning is meaningless
Act like you meaning to change up the game
But it's seeming that you have got nothing to bring to it

I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me, I know it's all because of me

Baphomet spoke to me, told me listen to me
All of the answers I seek, all of the answers in me
I look intently at the night sky wondering why I'm here
I'm Yung Crowley
Run up in a residential area then take a motherfucker daughter back to the black cave
Tie her to the wall, she told me never let her go and I'ma make her sip the blood of yet another young dame
I got my plague mask
(Got my plague mask and I'll summon LaVey)
In the center of the star
(Center the star I speak and you obey)
Put the snake on her neck
(Snake on her neck, she's the live altar babe)
Let us pray to the dark
(Pray to the dark, the light only betrays)

I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me
I know it's all because of me
