There's No More Space

Ghostly Kisses

I never want to be awake
Every day is always the same
The relentless march of time only awaits
I might just face my fate

There is no more space in-between you and me, only shades of blue
There is no more time in-between every dream brings me back to you

I'm so bored when I'm awake
I'd rather live through yesterday
Cause there is no more time to make it okay
You're too far away

There is no more space in-
between you and me, only shades of blue
There is no more time in-
between every dream brings me back to you
Your light is all I knew
You know where I'll be
Only back to sleep

Should I forgive you after all?
The clock is ticking, that's for sure Would you still care for me at all?
Even if we were always at odds
Would you forgive me after all?
I never thought you would be gone for so long

There is no more space in-
between you and me, only shades of blue
There is no more time in-
between every dream brings me back to you
Your light is all I knew
You know where I'll be
Only back to sleep

There is no more space in-
between you and me, only shades of blue
There is no more time in-
between every dream brings me back to you
Your light is all I knew
If you were here with me
You'd take me back to sleep