

Life After Sundown

Ghoultown

it's life after sundown
in a mexican town
south of the border

when the sun goes down in the southern sky then you know it's time for us to rise when the sun goes down you know we'll load all our rounds and ride for the place that lives by the gun cover yourself in black no color in this world we know cuz only money is gold and life is cheap when we come to your town like the resurrection of the dead only the best will live to the end

it's life after sundown
in a mexican town
south of the border