

I Guess I'll Always Love You

Gilbert O'Sullivan

I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care
I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care

I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care
I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care

What a time we had back then, at the start of our career
You remember how we laughed through the laughter and the tears
Now although our lives have changed and we're living far apart
There's a feeling that remains and it's in my heart

I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care
I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care

Looking back over the years and the memories they hold
One thing always gets to me, why'd I ever let you go
Though it's easy to be wise, once events have taken place
When I think about those times and I see your face

I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care
I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care

If it wasn't for the fact that I think of you like that I don't think I could explain ever seeing you again
If it wasn't for the time that has passed since you were mine
I don't think you could deny, even with good bye

I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care
I guess I'll always love you
I guess I'll always care
