

Here Again

Gin Blossoms

I'm never gonna blame your lips for what they do
Just because you're screaming doesn't make it true
And just because you take away the moon and stars
Doesn't stop the bleeding or smooth away the scars

You're my heroin
I would drown in a million of your kisses
My heroin
Baby please
You're my heroin
Got the sweetest taste that never misses
I'm here again, yeah I'm here again

Baby please
Baby please

I thought that I could trust in you but I was wrong
Six kinds of surrender, come on take what you want
If I could just forget you girl, you know I would
This ain't worth the trouble and it ain't no good

You're my heroin
I would drown in a million of your kisses
My heroin
Baby please
You're my heroin
Got the sweetest taste that never misses
I'm here again, yeah I'm here again

Baby please
Baby please

You're my heroin
I would drown in a million of your kisses
My heroin
Baby please
You're my heroin
Got the sweetest taste that never misses
I'm here again, yeah I'm here again

Baby please
Baby please
