

No Problems

Ginger Root

Go get what you want
Get hip to the signs and then you
Get lost in your thoughts
Just trying to prove, what's with you now?

And again
Times I've tried to bow and amend
The far and the fake, look, the sunlight's fadin'

How can you say this is not for debatin'?
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems?
I, I can't be fake when you're up and elated
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems too?

Now, tell me what's wrong
There's something behind your grinning
Been waiting too long
The show startin' soon, head's spinning 'round

Not again
Times I've tried to bow and amend
The far and the fake, look, the sunlight's fadin'

How can you say this is not for debatin'?
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems?
I, I can't be fake when you're up and elated
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems?
I, I can't take this, it's not debated
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems?
I, I can't be fake when you're up and elated
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems?

That you've got no problems
That you've got no problems

How can you say this is not for debatin'?
And now, how can you say that you've got no problems?
I can't be fake when you're up and elated
And now, how can you say that I've got no problems too?

That I've got no problems too
That I've got no problems too
