

Phone A Friend

Ginger Root

Can I decide again, what will allow?
Backwards I fall again, nodding slowly
Chances you'll speak again, but what about?
Anchor your feelings on the things you told me

Don't understand you
Everything you've been through, hah
I guess I need to phone a friend
I guess I need to phone a friend
I guess I need some help again

Did you feel better then? That part I doubt
Wrap it in cellophane, rotting slowly
Check on yourself before skipping the town
Basing your feelings on the things you told me

Don't understand you
Everything you've been through, hah
I guess I need to phone a friend
I guess I need to phone a friend
I guess I need some help again
