It's all just the same old thing
It's all what you want, what you want it to be
That is, when you talk, it's like you're talking to me, oh baby

I owe you a thing in life
For the times that you always stood by my side
And now it's my time to thank ya, to thank ya, baby

Why do you happen to be
The one investing all your time into me?
I know, I know you're better, maybe

You've got just the things you need
To make what you want, what you want to believe
That is, we can try to make it together, baby

I owe you a piece of mine
For the times that you always stood by my side
And now it's my time to thank ya, to thank ya, baby

Why do you happen to be
The one investing all your time into me?
I know, I know you're better, maybe
