Yeah, don't know where to run to when I'm on my own
You say that You're right there when I'm all alone
Try my best, but You know I'm learning
Stay with me when I'm far from perfect

You turn my dreams into reality, yeah
But I still find, like, five ways to be mad at me
Late nights in my own thoughts
Turn my whole life to a tragedy, yeah
Tryna fill this void
Spent too much time focused on myself that I didn't even hear Your voice
And it bothers me, and it hurts Your heart
And it's hard to see when I'm in the dark
Spirit, fall on me 'cause alone I'm not
Who I'm supposed to be, know I miss that mark, yeah

You say that I'm prideful when I know I'm not myself
Crying out to Yah, I cannot do this without help
But these days feel stray, thought I'm good, I guess I fell
I pray you stay, I feel better when I'm held Enemy thought he could step on me, probably forgot that my Father is one of a kind
All this gon' happen eventually, keepin' my head high with a heavenly mind
Head low when I'm taking what's mine
Know what you seek is what you gonna find
People gon' say that you nothin', but don't let it get to you
Know that you built by design

(Don't know where to run to when I'm on my own)
(You say that You're right there when I'm all alone)
Try my best, but You know I'm learning
Stay with me when I'm far from perfect

You turn my dreams into reality, yeah
But I still find, like, five ways to be mad at me
Late nights in my own thoughts
Turn my whole life to a tragedy, yeah
Tryna fill this void
Spent too much time focused on myself that I didn't even hear Your voice
And it bothers me, and it hurts Your heart
And it's hard to see when I'm in the dark
