

Kinda funny how the whole world change
Nothin will remain
But I still stay stressin
Kinda silly how these games turn lame
But we numb our pain
With the highs we stretchin

I'm chasing tryna find the unknown
Pray I die to my throne
Say goodbye at the tone
And now I'm on the side of the road
On my drive back to home it's true

That I'm just overdosed on serotonin
My mind just keeps on going
Try my best to freeze the moment
My thoughts they way too potent
How many times I need a second to stop
I swear that time moves faster when I look at the clock
I'm overdosed on serotonin
My mind just keeps on

Fear you
You try to whisper in my ear but I can't hear you
Said you can wipe away my tears but I'm not near you
Feels like the only time I see you is in the rearview
How many times I gotta tell me it's not real
The pot feels different when ya cookin' ya own meal
The locksmith beggin' me to switch up the lock still
But I don't wanna give it up

I'm chasing tryna find the unknown
Pray I die to my throne
Say goodbye at the tone
And now I'm on the side of the road
On my drive back to home it's true

That I'm just overdosed on serotonin
My mind just keeps on going
Try my best to freeze the moment
My thoughts they way too potent
How many times I need a second to stop
I swear that time moves faster when I look at the clock
I'm overdosed on serotonin
My mind just keeps on going

Overdosed on serotonin
Try my best to freeze the moment
