Missing You

Girlfriends

Stale beer and cheap wine
Been running the red lights
Grab the wheel, close my eyes
Got all night, got all night
Cigarettes and cheap pills
'Cause I hate how I feel
I wish this wasn't real

I'm missing you like I knew I would
I'm missing you, heard you're doing good
I hope you hurt like me, but that just isn't true
I'm missing you, I'm missing you
(I'm missing you)

You made promises that you couldn't keep
Said a lot of things that you didn't mean
Didn't say a thing when you went to leave
And it's killing me, yeah, it's killing me
And I've never been that innocent
But, I swear to God, you were heaven-sent
Then something changed, you were different
Now it's different

I'm missing you like I knew I would
I'm missing you, heard you're doing good
I hope you hurt like me, but that just isn't true
I'm missing you, I'm missing you

It hurts too bad to say goodbye right now, but
Maybe in time, you'll start to come around again
I could never regret you, it's hard to forget you
It hurts too bad to say goodbye right now

I'm missing you like I knew I would
I'm missing you, heard you're doing good
I hope you hurt like me, but that just isn't true
I'm missing you, I'm missing you

It hurts too bad to say goodbye right now, but
Maybe, in time, you'll start to come around again
