

Tokyo

GIRLI

Hopped on a plane to come and find you
Straight on a flight to Tokyo
Do anything to try remind you
Of everything you're letting go

I spend so much time in my mind
14 hours in the sky
Chasing you just to find
That our love stories have died
And I'm tired, I feel beat
But this chapter's incomplete
Always me, in too deep
Not the way that it should be
Why do I follow
Everywhere you go
Just in case you show

So I hopped on a plane to come and find you
Straight on a flight to Tokyo
Do anything to try remind you
Of everything you're letting go

And so if you reject me
On the other side
Got the stamp on my passport
Just to prove I tried
Is that what love does?
Don't understand
How it makes me chase you to Japan

Why spend so much time out here crying
When our futures don't align
You need time, well alright
You should reimburse my flights
Go ahead, make your bed
Lay alone in it instead
I tried it all

Hopped on a plane to come and find you
Straight on a flight to Tokyo
Did anything to try remind you
Of everything you're letting go

Hopped on a plane to come and find you
But now I've got to let you go
