This is the end, pity, my bad boy
It was a really great trick
You love just for fun
It's just a game to you

Everything about you is like that, you're nothing but talk
You, devil, devil, you, you

Who was that? that impatient missed call
Did you plan to hide it?
That's the perfume I hate
You're acting suspicious, you've struck out

You really can't be cured
My sympathies, goodbye
I'm not the idiot here

You better run run run run run
It's the end for you
You better run run run run
I've waited long enough, hey
Your fake alibi hurts
I said enough already
You better run run run run
You're going to suffer in never-before-seen ways
Run devil devil run run

You can't possibly expect me to act
Like I don't notice it anymore
Greedy super playboy
Enough, you've already struck out

Everything about you is like that, just excuses
You, devil, devil, you, you

You better run run run run run
It's the end for you
You better run run run run
I've waited long enough, hey
You don't seem to understand
I said I've had enough of your fooling around
You better run run run run
You're going to suffer in never-before-seen ways
Run devil devil run run
Even my love has limits
Run devil devil run run

Hey, you say you're a guy so
You can't help messing around a little
With absurd logic like that
You never thought I'd break up with you

I'm sad and lonely
But I'm even more disappointed

You better run run run run run
It's the end for you
You better run run run run run
I've waited long enough, hey
You don't seem to understand
Just how serious I am
You better run run run run run
You're going to suffer in never-before-seen ways
You should beg for forgiveness, right?
Even if you're not one of them,
There's plenty of good guys still out there
