Gimme a time machine
Oh, gimme a time machine
Oh, gimme a time machine

Alone in the room that is more spacious than usual
It's over, guess it's over
The story created by the two of us was also in vain
I can't believe it could crumble so easily

One mistake, got a one regret
"Nobody is perfect"
Even if I try to say and hear it
The pain won't heal no matter what

Right now, if I could ride a time machine
And go to meet you
I wouldn't wish for anything else
Before the memories become distant and fleeting

I need a time machine oh
I need a time machine oh

Time slows to a crawl when I'm by myself
The punishment for my mistake is severe
The last words that you left behind
Even now, I can't stop (re-playing) the refrain

My heart still hurts

Just one mistake, just one regret
Even now, I still love you selfishly

Right now, if I could ride a time machine
And go to meet you
I wouldn't wish for anything else
Before the memories become distant and fleeting

I need a time machine

If I'm able to meet you passing through time and space
Even if it's heading to the same
Conclusion, I'm sure
There won't be any regrets remaining

Right now, if I could ride a time machine
And go to meet you
I wouldn't wish for anything else
Before the memories become distant and fleeting
Yeah, before the memories of us are forgotten

Gimme a time machine
Oh, gimme a time machine
Oh, gimme a time machine
