

The Virtual World

Girls Under Glass

A different view a different world
A different truth the virtual youth
Delete your ego delete your brain
And scanning pictures fast like a train

In the virtual world there is no fear
In the virtual world you mind is clear
In this state of mind you have no control
In this state of mind they get your soul

Manipulation you loose your sense
Getting out of control and no defense
You get reprogrammed in the danger zone
The transforation into the virtual room
From the virtual dream you will never awake
From the virtual horror you will never come back

In the virtual world

They wanna break your neck
