

Alone

Glades

I hate the way that I anticipate your every move
Like the way you always pick the cup that's baby blue
And threw your jacket on the floor cause that's just what you do
What you do

All the good and all the bad should I regret it all?
Cause now I guess that everything means nothing anymore
I still remember all the feelings walking out the door
Out the door

How do we go from sharing places
To strangers
How do I wipe away the traces?
Cause I hate that

And I see you
Everywhere, everywhere I go
And I feel you
Underneath, underneath my clothes
How do you blink and then fall out of love
All that we did, was it enough?
I see you
Everywhere, everywhere I go
When I'd rather be alone

It's been a month and now I've started seeing someone new
But every time I see em I just see another you
What do I do
When I'm still stuck on you?

How do we go from sharing places
To strangers
How do I wipe away the traces?
Cause I hate that

And I see you
Everywhere, everywhere I go
And I feel you
Underneath, underneath my clothes
How do you blink and then fall out of love
All that we did, was it enough?
I see you
Everywhere, everywhere I go
When I'd rather be alone

Time, time to give it
Time, time to say goodbye
Hope it's one last try

And I see you
Everywhere, everywhere I go
And I feel you
Underneath, underneath my clothes
How do you blink and then fall out of love
All that we did, was it enough?
I see you
Everywhere, everywhere I go

When I'd rather be alone