

Headstrong

Glades

So if they call you headstrong
Try fixing what they broke
I promise every wound heals
And the dream will stay your own

They think this girl is sailing to nowhere
Say, she's mediocre at her best
They wanna take her out of this ocean
But the turbulence has been a friend

They're all talk, sidetracked and
They don't know that she'll
Go all the places they won't go
She's move first, don't ask and
No breaks, all gas
Oh, all the places she will go

So if they call you headstrong
Try fixing what they broke
I promise every wound heals
And the dream will stay your own
One day you'll be happy
When you thought you'd still be sad
You'll be somebody that you're proud of
And then you won't look back
Don't look back
Don't look back

The thunder clouds won't last forever
Just like the storm inside her head
Cause the days they're changin' just like the weather
And it's not the end

So if they call you headstrong
Try fixing what they broke
I promise every wound heals
And the dream will stay your own
One day you'll be happy
When you thought you'd still be sad
You'll be somebody that you're proud of
And then you won't look back
Don't look back
Don't look back

They said that I was going nowhere
That I belong behind a desk
But I was made for Infinitely more
Than going through motions
So this is what I'll tell myself

So if they call you headstrong
Try fixing what they broke
I promise every wound heals
And the dream will stay your own
One day you'll be happy
When you thought you'd still be sad

You'll be somebody that you're proud of
And then you won't look back
Don't look back
Don't look back
