

Landslide

Glades

I'm a million miles away
Crossed an ocean on this plane
I got plastered eyes from the blurry skies
I've been staring at all day
And I hope you'll never say
We can never be that way
On this starry night, what a perfect time
To be swept away

You're up in my head
Every thought, every bend
The emotional part
Keep on starting again
And I told all of my friends
When I sent you that text
"Throw my heart in a ditch
If I see him again"

I'm caught in a landslide
Falling like the first time
Standing on a fault line
Am I on the wrong side?
Everything's so hazy
Then I see you with me
Something 'bout this feeling's
Got me caving every time
Landslide

There's a thousand words to say
But each moment fades away
Am I out of line with your hands in mine?
'Cause it's hard to say that
That I wish you could relate
Now we're staring face to face
Did I say too much? Was it not enough?
Wish I coulda said

You're up in my head
Every thought, every bend
The emotional part
Keep on starting again
And I told all of my friends
When I sent you that text
"Throw my heart in a ditch
If I see him again"

I'm caught in a landslide
Falling like the first time
Standing on a fault line
Am I on the wrong side?
Everything's so hazy
Then I see you with me
Something 'bout this feeling's
Got me caving every time
Landslide
Oh, landslide
Landslide

Landslide
Oh, oh, oh

Let it out, let it out
Let it out
Let it out, let it out
Let it out
One more time, one more time

This landslide
This landslide