

Knock, Draw, Release

Glaive

Why in the hell are you so nervous, baby?
You look perfect, baby
And you'll marry quite a jealous man, you heard it, baby, that just confirmed it for me
Don't believe what anybody says to you about me Sources get a bit contorted when they tertiary I'll tell you everything I know if you just asked it of me, I s poke quite casually Could've said I loved you then because I did, knock draw and re lease
But only when you say it, and I don't wanna hurt no one I'll get it right this time
I'm slowly learning if something isn't hurting, that means it i sn't working
It probably isn't urgent, my God
You're such an angel, but I don't deserve it
I built those walls years ago to be impervious
If any crack will show, it means the time has come You've gotta let me go before I fail you, yeah
