

We Are All Cursed

Glamour of the Kill

There's a feeling in my stomach, it makes me fucking sick
My blackened heart and bleeding lungs are just the start of it
So when you get this feeling, scream until it hurts
This love won't last forever and we're all fucking cursed

I gave you everything

You gave me hope, I gave you love, I gave you my heart
You put it in the palm of your hands
I watched you crush it in your fist before me
You gave me hope, I gave you love, I gave you my heart
You put it in the palm of your hands
I watched you crush it in your fist before my eyes

I have this aching in my bones, it won't leave until I'm dead
Can't count the sleepless nights I've had
These thoughts won't leave my head
So if you get the feel, feel it through your lungs
Just know that I'll be with you dear, even though I'm gone
I walk alone, with just my shadow to guide me
Scream from my lungs, with all the breath that's inside me

I gave you everything, you took it all, left me with nothing

You gave me hope, I gave you love, I gave you my heart
You put it in the palm of your hands
I watched you crush it in your fist before me
You gave me hope, I gave you love, I gave you my heart
You put it in the palm of your hands
I watched you crush it in your fist before my eyes

I walk alone, with just my shadow to guide me
Scream from my lungs, with all the breath that's inside me

I gave you everything, you took it all, left me with nothing

You gave me hope, I gave you love, I gave you my heart
You put it in the palm of your hands
I watched you crush it in your fist before me
You gave me hope, I gave you love, I gave you my heart
You put it in the palm of your hands
I watched you crush it in your fist before my eyes

My eyes
Right before my eyes
I watched you crush it in your fist before my eyes
