

I would like to explain everything
The words won't come out right
I would like to ignore the lock on the door
The words won't come out right

When you left you locked us in a burning building
Candid cameras in every corner always filming
Everybody running scrambling for an exit
Helpless people running scrambling yeah we used to

Play piano, placing palms in perfect patterns
Crave capsaicin in useless coups of connate caverns
Sing succinctly, symbiotic, democratic
Swing so sweetly, semiotics semiautomatic

I would like to explain everything
The words won't come out right
I would like to ignore the lock on the door
The words won't come out right

I guess he's the best but I've never known anyone else
I guess he's the best but I've never known anyone else

Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Candid cameras in every corner always filming
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building

I would like to explain everything
The words won't come out right
I would like to ignore the lock on the door
The words won't come out right

Yeah you left us
Yeah you left us
Yeah you left us locked us in a burning building
Yeah you left us
Yeah you left us
Yeah you left us
Yeah you left us
