

Alone

Glass Tides

As I see myself in the mirror
Thinking what I've done
Did it hurt the pain, the scars, their words?

More than being alone
You can be so cruel
You wouldn't even know

Alone were nights I spent
Fighting with myself
Trying to escape, trying not to break
Have I lost my mind?
Words cut like knives
They wouldn't even know

Am I all alone?

You break me down
And watch me burn
You wouldn't know how much it hurts
To take my pride, and fear myself

Take me back to when
I wasn't so afraid
When I didn't have a single bad thought in my brain
When I liked myself, for myself

But now I don't feel anything
Except feeling different
While my mind won't seem to change
And I just don't feel the same
Words cut like knives
I would know

Am I all alone?

You break me down
And watch me burn
You wouldn't know how much it hurts
To take my pride, and fear myself

I wanna know, I wanna feel
If there's change within myself
I wanna grow, I wanna heal
To make a change within myself

You break me down
And watch me burn
To take my pride, and fear myself

You break me down
And watch me burn
You wouldn't know how much it hurts
To take my pride, and fear myself
