

I'm falling to pieces
I can't seem to pick myself up off the ground
I don't have a reason
The walls just keep closing in on my mind

I gave you everything that you needed
But I'm not sure if I'm alive

I won't fall
Take me away
I will find myself

Alone at the start
The saddest parts knowing I'm happy when I fall apart
I don't want to know
Which way I am going or who I'm suppose to be

I've made my mistakes
I'm not a victim
I've made my mistakes
I've been afflicted

I won't fall
Take me away
I will find myself

I won't fall
Take me away
I will find myself

Everything I said was just to make it go away
Everything I did was out of spite and out of shame
You never made it easy so you just walked away
You never loved me back It was written on your face

Everything I said was just to make it go away
Everything I did was out of spite and out of shame
You never made it easy so you just walked away
You never loved me back It was written on your face

I won't fall
Take me away
I will find myself

I won't fall
Take me away
I will find myself
