

We're The Same

Glasseater

I remember it like it was yesterday....
Meeting you and going to shows...
Writing the story of our lives together...
Seeing snow for the first time...
Making the same new friends...

It seems like it was just the other day
But it is really many miles away...
It seems like our time is ending soon
But it is really many miles away...

So maybe physically we've changed ways and drifted apart
But mentally we're still the same

I remember it like it was yesterday
Seeing you go through love
This world is full of surprises
And if you remember correctly
We were there for you through it all

It seems like it was just the other day
But it is really many miles away...
It seems like our time is ending soon
But it is really many miles away...

So maybe physically we've changed ways and drifted apart
But mentally we're still the same

Blood brothers, we're here for each other...
Any problems you have, we'll help out our brothers
Dont hide away, come find me
I'll be...here with open arms
