

All I Need Is You

Glen Campbell

Some pray for rain, clouds have been a stranger to the sky
Some search for solutions, in a bottle of wine
Some cry for help, makin' noises in the night
But all I need is you, to get by

Some spend their lives running circles 'round the never ending sun
Some give up on love, before it's even begun
Some live with problems, others choose to run and hide
But all I need is you, to get by

All I need is you, when storms reach inside
When the sun is falling from my sky
All I need is you, nothing else but that
Can turn my back to face the truth
All I need is you

I've been alone, chained to fragile fantasies before
Fought back the fear, so I could open love's door
Held your hand of re-assurance, bring me hope to real life
All I need is you, to get by

All I need is you, when storms reach inside
When the sun is falling from my sky
All I need is you, nothing else but that
Can turn my back to face the truth
All I need is you

All I need is you, when storms reach inside
When the sun is falling from my sky
All I need is you, nowhere else to hide
You turn my back to face the truth
All I need is you