Glen Campbell

About five o'clock in the late afternoon sun's gettin' drowsy a bove me

Tonight I walk neath the sparkling moon with the girl who is happy to love me

She's my sweet country girl and she's all that I need The whole world wears the smile when she's talking Sweet country girl it's not hard to believe Pretty flowers bloom wherever she's been walking uh-huh

Shadows erase in the last light of day night time is startin't o settle

Red colored stone Lord is leading my way to her cottage way dow ${\bf n}$ in the meadow

She's my sweet country girl...

Green trees and golden hay and sunshine here every day Big cities far behind me well it's love with her to think I'm a gonna stay

About five o'clock in the late afternoon...

She's my sweet country girl yes she is

She's my sweet country girl and I love her she's my sweet country girl
