

Turn It Around in Your Mind

Glen Campbell

Every love has got two sides and a love just cannot live
If one side always takes and never gives
So put yourself here in my place and just think how it would be
If I'd always hurt you like you hurt me.

Just turn it around in your mind, turn it around see what you find
Look at our love from my point of view
And see all the hurt I'm going through
Just turn it around in your mind, turn it around in your mind.

You know I'll always forgive so you don't care what you do
Cause you know I'd swallowed all my pride for you
But if you care for me at all then just picture if you can
How one side of our love looks from where I stand.

Just turn it around in your mind
Turn it around see what you find
Look at our love from my point of view
And see all the hurt I'm going through
Just turn it around in your mind, turn it around in your mind..
