

Just A Place

Glitterer

I don't live here anymore
A part of me will never leave
I say with two feet out the door
Now I'm feeling insecure
I'm from nowhere
So I think I'll stay a little more

What's it mean to feel at home?
It's as familiar to me
Just as much as it's unknown
I can't take another road
I only know the way one way
And that's the way that I came from

Remind myself it's just a place
Feel the guilt without a trace
Stamped a void across my face
Remind myself it's just a place