No One

Gnash

You're touching me, I meant to breathe
I guess I just forgot to
We're getting deep, we meant to sleep
But baby I don't want to

We got it good even the bad nights
These are the best I ever had nights
If it ain't you it never would feel right
I know it don't sound right, but

No one's gonna hold you
Know you like I know you
You might find another one who says he does
But no one's gonna love you like me
No one does it better
Promise they could never
You might find another one who says he does
But no one's gonna love you like me, yeah

Your blood and sweat, a couple tears
Shared ups and down in bathroom mirrors
I'll take your heart and stitch it here
And wear it like a souvenir
Anywhere I ever go from down the road to Tokyo
You'll never be alone, I wrote a note to let you know

We got it good even the bad nights
These are the best I ever had nights
If it ain't you it never would feel right
I know it don't sound right, no

No one's gonna hold you
Know you like I know you
You might find another one who says he does
But no one's gonna love you like me
No one does it better
Promise they could never
You might find another one who says he does
But no one's gonna love you like me

Yeah, no one's gonna love, no one's gonna love you like me

We got it good even the bad nights
These are the best I ever had nights
If it ain't you it never would feel right
I know it don't sound right, no

No one's gonna hold you
Know you like I know you
You might find another one who says he does
But no one's gonna love you like me
No one does it better
Promise they could never
You might find another one who says he does
But no one's gonna love you like me

No one else could ever, girl
