Feel

Godhead

Never knew there was an ordinary way. Never even seen the light of day. Holding back from what I thought would bring me pain. Only now I see was wrong again.

I'm forever lost in thoughts within myself. Never giving time to anyone else. You take the only thing I hold to myself dear. Now I see my future's crystal clear.

Crossed the path of what was undetermined lives. Killed the road to their salvation. Now I hear them in the darkness as they cry. I will never feel elation.

Rid the past of all the wrong that I have made. Or I'll take these actions to the grave. Please forgive me all I wanted was to live. Remorse is now the only thing I can give.

Crossed the path of what was undetermined lives. Killed the road to their salvation. Now I hear them in the darkness as they cry. I will never feel relation.
