You search for me in places Where you'll never find me. I've seen the empty faces. I leave them all behind me.

Reaching out for something That's beyond my grasp. Coming back with nothing, Hoping this won't last.

The victim and the fall. I suffer through it all.

There's nothing more.
I have no more.
I am a whore.
There's nothing more.

I find within your ruins
Only death and dust.
Looking through your sewage,
My bones begin to rust.

I feel the need for something That's beyond my grasp. Reaching out for nothing, Knowing this won't last.

The victim and the fall. I suffer through it all.

There's nothing more.
I have no more.
I am a whore.
There's nothing more.
