

Oroborus

Gojira

Serpent of light, movement of the soul crawling stately along the spine Mighty phoenix, from the ashes arises Firebird cycle, life, regenerate the cell

Life burns fierce, reduced to ashes Resurrection from the flame, ageless process Quest for absolution, out of bounds introspect Self-consuming womb, ever-present, meet no end

It seems like I always knew this since I'm a child I can feel it My inner light everlasting revolving within a circle

Extended wings I'm flying over the valleys and planes The curve of space I'm leaving death is just an illusion

Oroborus symbol of eternal life dig a tunnel through light, through ignorant walls I'm counting the days but I'm dying Grow up with impatience I'm falling down

On the peaks of radiant mountains this truth is growing before before me My attention fixed on this silence Rediscover life while I'm breathing

Designing the shape of material Frozen icon distant reminder Mankind has forgotten the gateways
By the mouth of the serpent regenerate
