

Babylon

Golden Earring

All the story I've been worried
Did someone ever break your spell?

There's a twist in my tongue made in Babylon
Been elevating, it's complicating
And words can't express real happiness
Everybody's mocking, keep on talking
Walking on the moon, lazing in the sun
And I came for heaven, and be for people

There's no wars won and nothing done
All the way from Babylon
Stone by stone, buried her
Stone by stone, it came down
Walls of chalk with double talk
Hang your tags and labels on
There's no wars won and nothing done
All the way from Babylon

Put 'em in a box, on paradox
And find decision from the magician
Between a whisper and a scream I sense what you mean
But I confess your guess is my guess

There's no wars won and nothing done
All the way from Babylon
Stone by stone, buried her
Stone by stone, it came down
Walls of chalk with double talk
Hang your tags and labels on
There's no wars won and nothing done
All the way from Babylon

Made in Babylon
Made in Babylon
Made in Babylon
Made in Babylon