

Good Guy

Goldfinger

I've always played the good guy
But these days I'm afraid I've been pushed to the edge
And I'm not alright
You're the match, I'm the fuse tossing off of the ledge

So hold your breath and shut your eyes
I'm about to go off
I'm breaking down

Cause I just caught another one of your lies
I won't let another one of them slide
This time I'm gonna battle and start to fight
This time it's gonna matter I'll get it right
I'm done with the good guy

It hurts to be the good guy
Letting everyone step when you can get to the top
When is it my turn
I've been waiting so long but your lies never stop

I close my eyes and take a breath
'Cause I'm about to go off
I'm breaking down

Cause I just caught another one of your lies
I won't let another one of them slide
This time I'm gonna battle and start to fight
This time it's gonna matter I'll get it right
I'm done with the good guy

Somehow it's come down to this day
I have to choose myself which way
That I'm going
No way I'm knowing

Cause I just caught another one of your lies
I won't let another one of them slide
This time I'm gonna battle and start to fight
This time it's gonna matter I'll get it right
I'm done with the good guy, yeah
