

It's Always Something

Gomey

You're so unstable
Got cocaine lined up on the table
And you're so afraid of labels
But I never was trying to claim you

Was supposed to catch a vibe
In mid July
Not gon' lie
You know I was excited on the low

I know we both got busy lives
Admit you lied
Reasons why shit came up and you just couldn't go

Bitch, ain't it always something
It's unbecoming
We could've done some lunch and fucking
But you was bluffing

I heard the music loud
When I told you to come over
You probably in the club
Know you been with the promoter

So tell me what's the motive
Decode it
Why the fuck you always calling
And come back crawling?

You're first to watch my stories
I can tell
You say that you just want me to yourself

White lies

She just posts some clips
She don't want my love
She just wants more clicks
She wants all their love
Reading all my text
Likes my pics but hardly writes back

You're so unstable
Got cocaine lined up on the table
And you're so afraid of labels
But I never was tryin' to claim you

I just

Told this bitch get off my phone and
Find another dude that's dumb enough
To buy all your fables
'Cause I'm trying not to hate you
It's always something

Last call
Said we gon' link

Had me waiting by the bar
And I turned down a few others that approached
I should've took 'em home and just broke their ass off

Then you text me with the "oh my"
"I'm so sorry"
"I got caught up and lost time"
"How's next time?"

Replied with the peace sign
Don't write me
I ain't ever got the time for no fuckery

Send emojis with the wave
You're not the first sad bitch that I couldn't save
You swear that you're a bad bitch but that ain't appraised
I know I'm throwing salt, this some shit they want to say

Hear this song
And I know you feel a way
But it's fine
They like the way that I talk
I'm just bein' honest
Yea
And I got some joints that answers my calls
Rebounding like Rodman

You're so unstable
Got cocaine lined up on the table
And you're so afraid of labels
But I never was tryin' to claim you

I just

Told this bitch get off my phone and
Find another dude that's dumb enough
To buy all your fables
'Cause I'm trying not to hate you
It's always something