

X-Rays

Gomez

All the times we float through
The air we breathe in
Keep on places we've got to share
Get to see them

You didn't turn it on
But you can't turn it off
I know you didn't turn it on
But you can't turn it off

All the information
Competing for the memory
Perfect situation
Consuming all the energy

We didn't turn it on
But we can't turn it off
I know we didn't turn it on
Now we can't turn it off

Can we rediscover what we had?
Oh, I never felt it dissolving
And it's nothing like what we used to have
Oh, we never saw it fading away, being human

It's time to find out what we really want
Been running away from the light
Into the shadows for so long now
We're becoming invisible

It's time to figure out what went wrong
And seal the distance too far across
We should just start crossing it
The distance doesn't exist

It's time to let go of what we lost
A heavy elixir felt it
Slip through my fingers
As I raised my hands to my face

It's time we made our final stop
And look for the air that is yet to be touched
By any other human being
Being human

You can't turn it off
I know you didn't turn it on
But you can't turn it off
