

Thrills Of The Family Man

Good Morning

Oh, look
You know my love never change
Yeah, but all this resistance
Is my heart feeling kind of deranged?

Well, I was busy looking through some photographs
I stumbled on a note like an epitaph
And the stranger said, "I want to make it by the end"
Yeah, the music is gone to a memory that fades away
But I ain't caught it yet
I wanna die with the belief that the best is yet to come

If it weren't for you, I could've left you alone
Well, there's only so much I can do
So far from home in a place so secure
Where none is like my friend
Yeah, my heart beats still for the thrills of the family man

Yeah, it sure is funny here
And when the news moves quick, the best I heard isn't clear
And while I can't quite afford all my groceries
I used to take another six on the daily
Please get back to contemplating on another side
Or just trying to make it home before the family passes away
I call it love in a way
Yeah, I don't wanna live with the thought it couldn't happen just any day

But you, I could've left you alone
Well, there's only so much I can end
So far from us in a place so secure
I never thought I'd find a friend
Well, my heart beats still for the thrills of the family man

My heart still beats for the family man
My heart still beats for the family man
My heart still beats for the family man
My heart still beats for the family man
And my heart beats still for the thrills of the family man
Yeah, my heart beats still for the thrills of family man

And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man

And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
And my heart beats still for the family man
