

Whine Time

Good Morning

You know what you're talking about
You're sure and you have no doubt

Late at night who is the girl in your bed
"Sophie said" fuck man it's all in your head

Blame it all on the voice in your head
But without it you'd probably be dead

Most times I don't know what to say
So I sit and act like everything's the same
As always

Spend some change on the things that you need
Spend some more and you know that it's greed

Defend your right to pick and choose
Cause there's nothing in this world I'd rather Keep from losing
