

Breaking Down

Good Old War

You're breaking down on your own
I don't say no

You're breaking down on your own
I don't say no

You're breaking down on your own
You're breaking down

Sometimes I swear it's not real
With all the things that I have done
Not the last one

I'd never ask for something
That I can't handle on my own
Just to test you

I don't say no, no
You're breaking down on your own
You're breaking down

Collect your thoughts a second
Have I done anything that's wrong?
I really don't know

Your only competition
Is just the music I have done
Not the new songs

I don't say no, no
You're breaking down on your own
You're breaking down

Well you can't just make up something
There has got to be some truth
I never wanted a fight

And if I've done something bad
I'll be the first one to admit
I never wanted a fight
I never wanted a fight

I don't say no, no
You're breaking down on your own
You're breaking down
