Looking Back

Good Old War

I opened up the blinds in our room
Just to see the sun shining down on you
The night is so far gone I can see tomorrow

You cracked a smile, opened up your arms
I thought I did you harm but I saw no scars
Life goes on baby you can see tomorrow

And I don't ever wanna look back
I don't ever wanna look back
I don't ever wanna look back

I was leaning out against the open door
Just about to leave but I wasn't sure
If I should let it go and start thinking about tomorrow

You took my hand, pulled me in
Told me life's a game that you never win
Stop thinking about the past so we can see tomorrow

And I don't ever wanna look back
I don't ever wanna look back
I don't ever wanna look back

And I don't ever wanna look back
I don't ever wanna look back
I don't ever wanna look back
