Good Old War

What will be your story now?
Today it's something far inside
Hurt your body close your eyes
And I'll bring you back to here

You are my own sinking ship
Cause every day the current shifts
And I picked apart your wasted lies
To get you back to here

CHORUS

Oh it's the last time we'll fall in love
Oh, it's the last try to break apart
You are not to blame

Why can't I just be alright?
Why can't I invade your mind?
Some days we're just so far off
But I want you back right here

Oh it's the last time we'll fall in love
Oh, it's the last try to break apart
You are not to blame

I can't remember your last smile
I think I made it happen though
Then I took you off to work once more
But I just want you here

Oh it's the last time we'll fall in love
Oh, it's the last try to break apart
You are not to blame
