

Every moment I am healing and I'm dealing with myself
She's got me in a good place and I don't feel any pain Beautiful visions, sparking decisions and I'm feeling right as
rain
I got something to say

I, I got a feeling, I need you near me
And if you're willing, we can ride the open road
We hear Joan and Dylan singing
But I'd hate to think that, it ain't me you're looking for So what you looking for?

Every morning, got me smiling and I'm dialing up your name
We're driving west from Burbank, you got your hand on my leg Beautiful visions, sparking decisions and I'm feeling right as
rain
So what you want me to say?

Beautiful visions spark my eye
Casting shadows in my mind
Are you the one to make it right?

My hands are shaking
From what my mouth just figured out it wants to say
And this could be a mistake
